THE RICKMAN REPORT NEWS FROM DISTRICT 5

Merry Christmas from Supervisor Rickman

As we celebrate Christmas and the holiday season, I want to take a moment to say thank you to the people who make San Joaquin County such a special place to call home.

This time of year reminds us of the values that truly matter—faith, family, service, and community. Across District 5 and throughout our county, I have seen neighbors helping neighbors, volunteers stepping up for those in need, and families coming together to celebrate traditions passed down through generations. That spirit is what makes our communities strong.

Over the past year, I have continued working to keep our neighborhoods safe, support local families, strengthen infrastructure, and invest in the future of South County. None of that progress happens without the trust, engagement, and partnership of the people I am honored to serve.

As you gather with loved ones this Christmas, I hope your homes are filled with peace, gratitude, and joy. May the coming year bring health, opportunity, and continued growth for every family in San Joaquin County.

From my family to yours, Merry Christmas, Happy New Year, and God bless.

— Supervisor Robert Rickman

San Joaquin County Releases Independent Review of Emergency Shelter System

I have long called for an accounting of funds spent on our county's homelessness responses and outcomes. On December 9, 2025, our Board received an independent review of the county's emergency shelters. The report looks at how many beds are available, how the shelters are run, and how well they serve people who need a safe place to stay. It gives fact-based findings to help the County improve its work to reduce homelessness and to hold itself accountable with real results. The review found that results vary depending on the type of shelter and the needs of the people staying there. It also highlights opportunities to enhance staffing, expand training, improve data quality, and enhance coordination, allowing shelters to focus more on helping people transition into stable housing. This enables the public to clearly see where progress is being made and where improvements are needed.

Key Facts and Figures: Since 2021, the County has invested more than $56 million in emergency shelter operations, construction, and upgrades.

These investments have supported:

- 339 new shelter beds across the county
 - Upgrades to existing shelter facilities
 - Strengthened partnerships with local service providers

The evaluation highlights system changes and needs, including:

- More non-congregate shelter beds for adults, which intentionally gives people more privacy and safety
- Continued growth of shelter options in cities across the County
- Increased demand for shelter, as more people are seeking help
- More complex client needs, including behavioral health, medical conditions, and age-related challenges

You can view the full presentation and the Board's discussion and review of the shelter review and homelessness strategy as the County continues its commitment to measurable progress.

LEGISLATIVE ADVOCACY: MAKING YOUR VOICE HEARD

California State Association of Counties (CSAC) Annual Conference

I am proud to represent San Joaquin County on the California State Association of Counties (CSAC) Board of Directors as one of my ancillary duties. We met for this year's Annual Conference the first week of December. CSAC is a nonprofit corporation governed by its member elected county supervisors and serves as the effective advocate and unified voice of California's 58 counties. The primary purpose of CSAC is to represent county government before the California Legislature, administrative agencies, and the federal government. CSAC places a strong emphasis on educating the public about the value and need for county programs and services.

Some topics discussed at this year's conference included agriculture, wildfire resilience and response, revenue solutions for counties, veterans services, data privacy and government efficiency, county indigent care responsibilities, homelessness funding, county role and responsibilities in providing healthcare to incarcerated individuals, Proposition 36 (2024) implementation updates, water resources, public safety, and much more.

San Joaquin Valley Air Pollution Control District

Another ancillary duty I am assigned is representing San Joaquin County on the Valley Air District Governing Board. The Air District has had significant positive impacts on our air quality that can be read about in their Annual Report.

At our December meeting, we recognized Central Valley students who participated in our Healthy Air Living Kids' Calendar contest. Student artists from across the San Joaquin Valley submitted their artwork, and a number of them were selected to be featured in the 2026 edition of the Healthy Air Living Kids' Calendar.

I am proud to recognize the following San Joaquin County students featured in the calendar:

- Natalia Owens, 12th grade, Stockton – Cover artist "Let's Keep Our Air Clean"
- Alexandra Diaz Chavez, 10th grade, Stockton – "Breathe Clean Air"
- Aashvi Praveen Bhimaneni, 4th grade, Tracy – "Walking and biking every day keeps air pollution away."

To request calendars, email public.education@valleyair.org or call (559) 230-6000. Calendars can also be picked up at the Modesto Office located at 4800 Enterprise Way.

Mariposa Road and Escalon-Bellota Road Specific Plan Second Community Workshop

On December 8, 2025, the County held a workshop to share draft design concepts of potential improvements to enhance traffic flow, safety, and accessibility along Mariposa Road. These concepts were developed using input gathered from a previous workshop. The public's feedback is essential to help refine the final plan and ensure it reflects community needs and priorities.

Project details may be viewed here. If you have any questions or comments on the project, please reach out at MEB.plan@sjgov.org or call (209) 231-5263.
